An Open Letter to Overburdened Housewives

Did you ever look into the tiny, compact kitchen of a dining car or the cook's galley aboard ship, without wonder and envy? Doesn't the thought of standing in one spot and reaching every necessity for preparing a meal appeal to you? Isn't it easier than traveling back and forth from the table to the pantry, the cupboard, the store room?

Did you ever think how many thousands of steps are needlessly taken, and how much time is wasted by a lack of concentration of kitchen necessities?

The McDougall Idea offers a remedy for this waste of time and effort. Clever architects and artists have been set to work. Domestic Science experts have been consulted. The result of their combined efforts is shown in the McDougall Kitchen Cabinet, the greatest labor-saving device ever planned for the housewife.

McDOUGALL Kitchen Cabinets

The McDougall Kitchen Cabinet was selected for use in the "Model Kitchen" at the St. Louis Exposition.

You can make yourself a "model kitchen" by having one of these cabinets, and can save yourself much hard work. There will be a special exhibit of McDougall Kitchen Cabinets at our store this week and will be glad to tell you about their many good points. Get a copy of "Kitchen Economy" by Mrs. S. T. Rorer. It is given free to each lady who visits our store this week.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

In the brilliant new romantic drama "Will O' the Wisp," Mary Emerson has scored a great success, along with one of the most talented supporting companies that has ever appeared with her. In presenting this production Manager Samuel Lewis exercised very careful thought in selecting a new vehicle in which to star Miss Emerson, considering the fact that the patrons are deserving the most meritorious work available, and, with this in view, offers "Will O' the Wisp." The production will be presented at the Grand tonight, with a wealth of magnificent scenery and costumes, and is calculated to prove one of the dramatic events of the season, as it has done wherever offered.

POLICE COURT

There was but one before his honor the mayor this morning after the long interim from Saturday until Monday morning. Only one who had trod the primrose paths of dalliance, that by some mischance of simile lead to the police court. The aforesaid promenade cost the gentleman just $10 in imaginary money. We say imaginary because he had none. His currency was of the ignis fatuus variety. As fleeing a vision was this gent's currency as was the Florodora siren of his alcohol inspired dreams, who persuaded him to "take a little walk with me." If any one has the impression that we care only for turkey on X-mas, why we wish to correct that idea, don't think for a moment that we would turn down a duck, goose, chicken or game. We have to please the public.

PEERLESS GLASS FACTORY OPENS

The Peerless window glass factory at Northview, which was but recently completed, has made a very successful start and is now in full operation. The plant is a twelve-foot day tank and modern in its construction and design.

The Peerless made its first glass Saturday. Everything started off smoothly and the quality of the glass was pronounced by experienced men as the best they ever saw made in a new plant.

The company employs about 80 men. The manager, Mr. Henry Trunick, is a very industrious and courteous gentleman and has had years of experience in the glass business and knows no such thing as failure.

The master taster, Charles Appenzeller, the man who makes the glass, bears the reputation of being one of the most skilled glass makers in the United States.

This new industry will increase the payroll of Clarksburg about two thousand dollars per week and has in its employ one of the finest set of workmen that the writer ever saw. The people of Northview are very proud of this new industry and wish it success. H. P.
